

Our Collages: Similar to Those of Eric Carle

By Our Lady of Peace Half-Day
Kindergarten 2011 - 2012

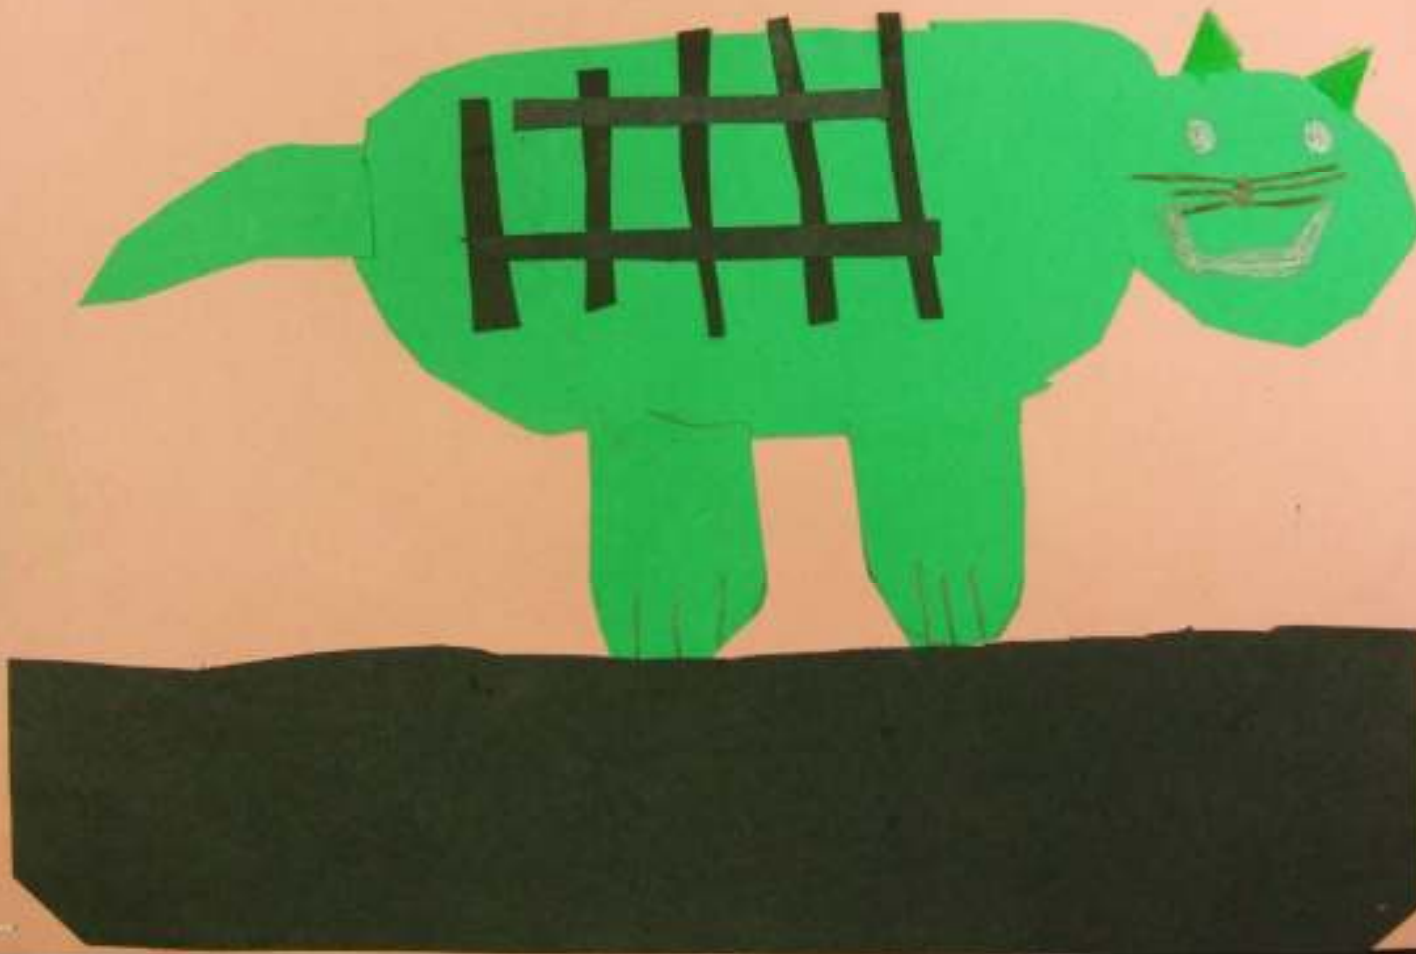

The first book that Eric Carle illustrated was written by Bill Martin, Jr. and was called Brown Bear, Brown Bear, What Do You See? We looked at that book and many others written and illustrated by Eric Carle. The illustrations are so motivating! We used watercolor paint and painted sheets and sheets of beautiful paper. The next day we started cutting things out to form collage pictures similar to those by Eric Carle. Please read on to see what we have created...

Lucia made a collage of a zebra on a sunny day!

I made a collage
at IS [unclear] [unclear].
The zebra like being in the wild.

She wrote about the zebra in the wild!

Connor made a green tiger!

I made a tiger.

This tiger is a jungle tiger.

It is a college.

He is green.

The tiger is in the jungle.

Do you like my pictures?
because i made a collage because you get to color by yourself.
